HOSTILE BRITISH SCENES OCCUR IN MOSCOW

Y. M. C. A. HERE NOW LARGEST IN STATE

Annual Report of Head Of Directors Made Public Saturday
ONE OF BIGGEST IN ENTIRE SOUTH
A Total Membership of 2,097 Carried On The Association Rolls

At the recent meeting of the directors of the R. Y. M. C. A. held at the association building, when the same board was re-elected to serve for another year, E. R. Wolfe, chairman of the board, read his annual report. The big feature of the report was the large membership reported for the association, the total being 1,412, added to this number of the 685 enrolled in the six months' term bringing the grand total to 2,097, by far the largest association membership in the state, and perhaps the largest R. Y. M. C. A. membership in the entire South. Mr. Wolfe's report is as follows: "To the Board of Managers of the R. Y. M. C. A. Railroad Y. M. C. A., Albany, Ala."

Gentlemen—As chairman of our general board of managers, it is my privilege to give you a report of our stewardship for the past year. This report will deal principally with the activities of the local association, and we will depend on our general secretary to give you the financial report.

Before giving our total figures, I wish to call your attention to the fact that for practically six months of the past year it was impossible to carry on any program of activities other than the routine business handled in the building; consequently we could very easily consider the figures which follow as doubled had it been possible for us to have had a full 12 months' program.

"Two departments which I would consider as outstanding in the number of men handled are those using the social service features connected with the association which has 17,260 men, and next to the social feature comes the number of men participating in religious work or religious talks at the shops, which number 18,900. The number of men using our reading room has been 10,754, while the general use of the building has been 84,541 men; number of baths that have been taken during the fiscal year is 12,922. Our 37 beds were used 8,426 times during the year.

"The educational features at the shops were conducted, as you know, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. through the county health department and consisted principally of either health talks or talks on specific diseases. Those attending these talks were 2,250. In this connection, I would like to add that since activities have been resumed at the shops other work of organization has prevented our getting this work under way. However, it is expected that we will be able to get our health talks going in a short time; Dr. McKee, the new county health officer, has signified his desire to continue this work.

"Our social and entertainment program is bringing a new feature in our local work, as the moving picture machine was just purchased in January, and after some time is getting the necessary equipment in order to show these pictures during the day time or at the noon hour at the shops, we really have not been handling this work more than approximately two months. In this time we have had 1,919 men to view our educational pictures, which consist of two reels per day. Next week we are to open up in another department, with this work as the shadow box in the blacksmith department will be completed by that time.

"Heretofore athletics have been considered an impossibility as far as the shop men were concerned. However, with one volleyball court at the shops and a small corner in which to play indoor baseball, 9,373 men have participated in these games during the year.

"We have tried to combine our boys work with the more urgent work of the shops and have succeeded, however, not to the extent that the board would like. Realizing our inability to

Hoodoo Holds No Terror for Albany

High As Thirteenth Win Is Chalked Up

The Albany High School added another victory to her long string of wins yesterday afternoon when they trounced the Courtland team to the tune of 7 to 3.

The elements were against good baseball yesterday—the high winds bringing endless amounts of dust across the diamond from the south, incidentally depositing a large share of it in the eyes of the officials and players.

The winds were favorable to the mound artists, and unfavorable to the batsmen who faced them, with one significant result—each of the pitchers who started the game—Pepper and Lee—struck out 10 men each. Merchant was sent in by Courtland to relieve Lee after all but the shouting had been done. Mr. Merchant was a better batter than he was a moundsman. He made a two-base hit off the victorious Pepper, but on the mound Mr. Merchant's most noticeable accomplishment was making a balk, and doing a few other little things that do not redound to his glory as a hurler of the horseshoe.

Although Pepper struck out no more men than did "Jackie" Lee, the local star did fail to give any bases on balls, while the official record shows Jack sent four to first base gratis.

But to return to Mr. Merchant—in justice to that good man some say he did strike out one of the Albany boys. But he got beat. He brought up the rear of a forlorn hope so what would be the difference to King Tut, or to us when a few cents of time have passed our generation by.

Yesterday's win for Albany High was the thirteenth one—luck was with them despite the history of that number—in less than two months' time, and the victory yesterday was the third one for this week.

When the game was about to start the spectators were scarce—many did not know of the coming of the Courtland boys for one thing, and then there were the high winds and the dust, but before the rounds of the bases were started, quite a large crowd had assembled. To show the game came as a surprise, its promoters had to pick the official scorers and the umpire at the last moment. Lewis Ling became his ump, and to all appearances sought to be fair to one and all.

Brisby, Handy and Prosser, first up for Albany, were retired in one, two, three order, and Jackie was going strong, especially on his windup. Discount for the starting pitcher and comfort for the wavering local fans were accomplished by their leaders saying with conviction, "He won't."

Four Prohibition Inspectors Arrest 8 Students Who Are Fined

(Associated Press.)
COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald announced today that inspectors from his office last night raided the annual "spring prom" at Kenyon College, Gambier, O., and arrested eight students for having liquor in their possession. Considerable "evidence" was reported seized.

Seven of the students this morning pleaded guilty of having intoxicating liquors in their possession when arraigned in mayor's court and each was fined $100 and costs. McDonald said today that one of the students was "too drunk to enter a plea."

The chief of the state prohibition forces declared that President Pierce and several of the Kenyon College professors remonstrated with the inspectors and that President Pierce was taken to police headquarters with the arrested students, but was not placed under arrest.

In a statement, President Pierce stated that the faculty will take immediate steps to prohibit liquor in connection with any social activity at the college. He intimated that some expulsions are expected to follow last night's raid.

WHIPPING BANNED BY FLORIDA SENATE

(Associated Press.)
TALAHASSEE, Fla., May 12.—The banning of all forms of corporal punishment of prisoners in this state for at least two years, as a trial measure, seemed a certainty today when the Senate, receding another step in its attitude, passed 16 to 11, a bill by Senator Turnbull that would ban whipping of county convicts forever and banned it in the handling of state convicts for two years.

The House passed a bill to abolish all whipping of convicts.

NEWS OF CAPITAL

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 12.—When the present generation of middle-aged men were boys, butter was a farm product almost altogether and was shipped to the large markets like other farm products. With the growth of the creamery system, however, farmers have come to dispose of their cream through this channel, and farm butter has fallen off very largely. In 1899 over a billion pounds of butter were made on the farm; 20 years later in the United States only 700,000,000 pounds; and the farm butter of today is consumed largely at home or in near-by towns. These facts come from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Nevertheless, a considerable part of the butter of the country is still made on farms, and to aid in the production of a good product, the dairy division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin on the making of butter on the farm.

This bulletin first appeared several years ago, revised and was in such demand that the supply was exhausted with a reprint said to have been necessary.

The bulletin discusses the quality and preparation of the cream, the process of churning, and how to overcome the difficulties which arise in that process. Packages for market and how to pack the butter for storing are also taken up, it is said. Necessary equipment is listed, and a plan is given for a conveniently arranged dairy house, which is desirable in carrying on the manufacture of farm butter, farm officials say.

LOCAL MEN SAVED BY DRIVER OF CAR

City Officials Escaped Injury Narrowly In Nashville
AXLE BREAKS ON THE AUTOMOBILE
Control Lost By Driver But Machine Stopped Without Injury

Another illustration of mind triumphing over matter was given in Nashville yesterday, and as a result city officials of Albany and Decatur, who were in Nashville on an inspection trip of street paving material, are at home today, well and hearty, after narrowly escaping serious, if not fatal, injuries in an automobile accident.

Included in the party were: Mayor W. A. Britain, of Albany; Mayor James A. Nelson, of Decatur; City Engineer M. S. Bingham and Alderman W. M. Bailey, of Decatur.

The visitors were received with every courtesy in Nashville and Mr. Carr, of the Rhodes-Carr Company, was driving the officials over streets built of a specified building material. As the party moved at a moderate rate of speed down a steeply inclined thoroughfare, the machine's rear axle broke and the automobile was left without brakes or means to check its progress. Naturally the further it went the faster it moved.

Realizing the danger of the situation, Mr. Carr used rare presence of mind and managed to turn the car into a street not so steep, thereby checking the progress of the machine to some extent. Then he drove across a low curb and allowed the car to scum off the terrace of a lawn and brought it to a full stop against a telephone pole, the maneuver gradually breaking the progress of the car without injury to any of the occupants. The car was wrecked.

16 Foreigners In Hands of Bandits

(Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Advices to the State Department today from the legation at Peking said it was believed the foreigners held by the Chinese bandits numbered 14 men and two women.

The American prisoners are: J. B. Powell, editor of the Weekly Review, Shanghai; Leon Friedman, of the China Motors Corporation, Shanghai; Lee Solomon, of Shanghai, and Majors Robert Allen and Roland Pajors, of the United States army.

SEEK TO BLOCK THE EXODUS OF NEGROES

(Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 12.—Leading negro editors and negro ministers of the Birmingham industrial district have joined forces with large employers of labor here in a concerted effort to check the exodus of negro workers which is said to have threatened a serious shortage in man power in mine and mill, according to an industrial item today in The Birmingham News.

The Alabama mining institute, according to this authority, is broadcasting data among negro workers concerning wages and health conditions in Southern mines and camps, compared with those in other sections which are drawing labor from the state.

A scale of wages in this district has been constantly boosted during the last six months, the item related, with wages today only slightly under those of the "boom" days of the war. Labor agents are active in the district, it was stated, with inducements.

Surging Crowds Filling Streets As Program Gets Under Way
SOVIET WILLING TO NEGOTIATE
Russians Do Not Desire War With Britain

(Associated Press.)
MOSCOW, May 12.—The Russian reply to the British ultimatum was handed to the British representative here late this afternoon and will be sent to London today. Its general tone was reflected by Foreign Minister Tchitcherin in his speech before the Moscow soviet this afternoon in which he declared Russia would propose to England that a conference be held in an effort to avoid a break.

MOSCOW, May 12.—All Moscow's factories and government institutions were closed this morning to permit the employer to take part in a great demonstration against the British note.

Surging crowds early began to fill the streets of the city. The intent of the demonstrators seemed to be peaceful, but it appeared evident they meant to make the demonstration an impressive one.

Deputy Foreign Minister Gant'sky's declaration to the Moscow council of trades unions that although Russia is willing to enter with Great Britain over the differences between the two countries, the British ultimatum was not a step toward the end of the trend of official opinion toward the British note.

Gant'sky told the council that the soviet government desired no break with Britain.

"We say to England," he asserted, "let us talk the matter over, but do not dictate."

Gant'sky's statement that "Russia is against those who want to enslave" her found a reflection in the resolution passed by the council announcing Russia was ready, if necessary, to respond with armed force on those who try to infringe on her independence.

FIX SEWER AND STRAIGHTEN "DRY CREEK" TO THE RIVER.

In his letter to The Daily on May 9, County Health Officer Dr. H. C. McRee stated that the main sewer leading from Moulton Street, West Albany, north through Decatur to the Tennessee River, was in need of repairs.

He added that the city engineer, M. C. Bingham, and county health unit officials, had made certain recommendations to the city council of Albany as to ways and means for repairing the sewer in question.

Dr. McRee stated that the sewer was "running over at several manholes" between Moulton street and the river.

No doubt the city councils of both Decatur and Albany will take such steps as are necessary to remedy the defective sewer.

Some time ago the county board of revenue was approached on the question of straightening out "dry creek," a small stream which rises in the far western part of Albany and flows in a northerly direction into the Tennessee River. It was claimed when the matter was before the board, that as the creek now runs, it furnishes too many breeding places for malaria mosquitoes and other pests.

It is stated that at the time members of the board were approached they assured city officials of Albany and Decatur that if the cities would do the needed work on dry creek within the city limits that the county would do all needed work on the stream, from the Tennessee river back as far as the city limits.

It is not known whether the county is now prepared to renew its offer of some time ago, but it would doubtless do so. At any rate ways and means should be found for making "dry creek" blameless for any malaria or other diseases that may appear in the future.

Persistence, being everlastingly at it, is the capital with which success is always adorned.
Without the first mentioned attribute, efforts radiant with promise will fall to the ground for the want of it.

If the hands extended across the seas were full of money, times would be better.

They who see no good in their fellowmen all about them do no good for themselves nor the great army about them. They are blinded to the great fabric of charity and being thus in that condition, are not in harmony with the great plan of helpfulness which the world so much stands in need of.

Those who are trying to climb into the league of nations via the back door would do better to enter the front way.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair

"I will lift up mine eyes to the hills," saith the Psalmist, "from whence cometh my strength." Note that the writer said his strength came from the hills. We must not take the statement literally, however. Here is a case where the "letter killeth" the real meaning. The hills are inanimate.
They contain no strength, hence they could not have given strength to the Bible writer. We must say that David looked beyond the hills to the Maker of the hills. Indeed we must say that, for human beings can receive strength alone from the great Source of life. Life must come from other life. Science and Bible truth are agreed on this point.

Just as "spontaneous generation has been beaten all along the line," to quote a famous scientist, just so surely can we receive strength and inspiration from living things alone. All love must come from persons, and sometimes from those animals we call the "lower animals."

We can love only persons and those other "persons" we are pleased to call mere animals. We do say, and may say, that we love the beautiful; but it would be better to say that beautiful things please us. We say we love the flowers, but it would be better to say we love the Maker of the flowers. But sometimes some people have been said to hate God merely because He was in their way; because He planned differently and better.

Sometimes it is said that doers of God's will are hated just as men once hated the Savior, "without cause."

We may say we love freedom, but it would be better to say we love human beings and desire them to be free. We sometimes say we love the church, but it would be better to say we love the head of the church, and everybody in the church and out of it. We might say we love nature, but it would be better to say we love nature's God.

Christ's example for the truth of these statements: He did not say to love the beautiful. He said love Him. He did call attention to the beauty of the lilies of the field but He did not say to love the lilies. Doubtless He enjoyed nature, but He did not deify it. It was some mere poet who said there are "sermons in running brooks." The sermons that moved such men as wrote the Bible were spoken as from God Himself.

And another idea. Not only love but the sense of duty comes from persons. Those who want to know their duty listen to the words of our good pastors and NOT to the sounds of the "little babbling brook." Oh yes we can get more "enjoyment" from nature, but when it comes to love and duty we must get those divine qualities from a person—from God Himself. We must look beyond the hills to God from whom cometh our strength.

foster to a great extent the boys work, we feel that our report, although small compared with the rest of the work done, will have to suffice until the time comes when we will be able to employ a boys' work secretary who will be able to handle this work entirely. Our boys' group activities numbered approximately 68 boys for the year, which is, of course, exclusive of the older boys' conference, which brought to our cities the boys of North Alabama to the number of 326.
The local Hi Y clubs have taken advantage of meeting in the building and of consultation with the general secretary. They have had one meeting per week with a total attendance of 170.

"A new feature in association work has been the recent organization of a Sunday school class which is to meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 8:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. This is done to allow the men time to attend other churches or Sunday schools after this meeting has been held. In the past two Sundays we have had a total attendance of 146. This promises to be one of the biggest religious activities of a concerted nature that the local association will be privileged to sponsor.

"It will also be recalled that through an arrangement with Dr. Goodwin, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, services were held every Sunday evening on the Y. M. C. A. lawn last summer, with a total attendance for the summer of 1,480 persons.

"No doubt it will be a surprise to some members of our board to learn that ours is the largest Y. M. C. A. in the state of Alabama and not very far behind the largest on the L. & N. system, and one of the largest Railroad Y. M. C. A.'s in the South. Our total membership on April 1 was 1, 412, this being together with 685 men who enrolled for the six months' campaign has given us a total membership of 2,097, which by far surpasses any railroad association in the South, and of which we should feel justly proud.

This, to my mind, constitutes a record in local association annals of which the local board should not only feel satisfied but should also feel their responsibility to the membership as a whole. Too much cannot be said of the excellent work that has been accomplished by you men, both collectively and individually. We realize that had you not shown your whole-hearted co-operation in both membership campaigns, it would have been impossible to have reached anything like the goal attained.

"I feel that we should personally mention Mr. C. W. Matthews as captain in charge of the shop work for the efficient manner in which he handled the campaign. While Mr. Hodson, in charge of a department of 800 men, has maintained 100 per cent membership in his department from the close of the campaign to the present time. Mr. Roberts, captain of the iron department, has run with a total of almost as good a percentage.

"Our activities for the year have been participated in by 89,053 men. I wish to congratulate the local board on the reports of the past year and to urge that each one of us feel responsibility for having as good or better report, or even that the success or failure of the local association for the coming year rests with us."

day, when a special effort will be expression of Dr. Monroe, the pastor.

Dr. Monroe said that between now and Sunday he hoped to receive phone calls from those interested in getting the oldest mother of the community out to his church and he added that a special automobile would be dispatched to bring "the oldest mother" to the 11 o'clock service.

Some of the churches, such as St.

but as usual the service, as well as the other pastors not heard from, are ex-

Setting the Lawyer Right.

A flowery lawyer rose to address the jury. First he had an attendant bring him a glass of water. He took a few sips, smoothed down his vest, and launched into a burning description of the fall of Babylon. After about thirty minutes of this the judge called him to a halt and said: "I think we have heard enough about the fall of Babylon, counselor. This is a suit for damages due to a fault on a banana peel."

Gibbon Greatest Historian. Gibbon (1737-1794) is regarded as the greatest modern historian. "Whatever else is read, Gibbon must be read to," wrote Freeman.

Stray Bits at Wisdom.

Railway traveling is not traveling at all: it is merely being sent to a place, and very little different from becoming a parcel.—Ruskin.

Origin of "Good-by."

The meaning of "good-by," though sometimes erroneously given as "God buy—or redeem—you," is undoubtedly "God be with ye," and as such has been clipped into its modern form.

Many to Be Remembered.

Billy Dick, having lived in four different families, was saying his prayers, closing with "God bless my friends and all my parents."

CAN TELL COMING WEATHER

Almost Universal Belief That Tabby Has Foreknowledge of Any Approaching Changes.
"Cats have the reputation," says Dunwoody, according to the Detroit News, "of being especially weather-wise, an old notion which has given rise to a most extensive folklore. It is almost universally believed that good weather may be expected when the cat washes herself, but bad when she flicks her coat against the grain, or washes herself over the ears, or sits with her tail to the fire."

"As, too, the cat is supposed not only to have knowledge of the state of the weather, but a certain share in the arrangement of it, it is considered by sailors most unwise to provoke a cat. Hence they do not much like to have a cat on board at all, and when one happens to be more frisky than usual they quote a saying that the cat has a gale of wind in her tail. A chap often resorted to for raising a storm is to throw a cat overboard; but, according to the Hungarian proverb, as a cat does not die in the water, its paws disturb the surface—hence the faws on the surface of the water are called 'cat's paws.' In the same way, also, a large flurry in the water is called a 'cat's skin'; and in some parts of England a popular name for the stormy north-west wind is the 'cat's nose.'"

EXCELLENT MOTTO TO ADOPT

David Crockett's Advice: "First Be Sure You're Right, Then Go Ahead." Always Good.

David Crockett was the author of the famous motto, "Be sure you are right, then go ahead." It is said to have first appeared in print in Crockett's "Autobiography," published in 1834 appearing on the title page in the following form, says the Detroit News: "I leave this rule for others when I'm dead. Be always sure you're right—then go ahead."

The statement has been made that "Crockett wrote this highly entertaining history of his own life . . . full of blunders in grammar and misspelled words," although it had been revised and corrected by his more scholarly friends, "but the Britannica speaks of it as a so-called autobiography, which he very probably dictated or at least authorized published in 1834. A work purporting to be a continuation of this autobiography and entitled 'Colonel Crockett's Experiences and Adventures in Texas' is undoubtedly spurious."

John Bartlett, in his "Familiar Quotations," describes "Be sure you are right, then go ahead" as "the motto of David Crockett in the War of 1812."

When Mammoths Roamed the Land.
Mastodons and woolly mammoths were once as thick in New York as bison were on the western plains a century ago, according to Dr. Sherman O. Bishop, zoologist of the state museum. Although the mammoths were more closely related to the elephants, the only surviving members of the family, they were the first to become extinct and probably passed off the scene while the mastodons were still thriving. Skeletons of mastodons, more or less complete, and some of them suitable for museum mounting, have been found in about 100 localities in the state, the last one at Temple hill, Orange county, in 1921. The first was found in Columbia county, not far from Albany, in 1705. These huge mammals are believed to have flourished about the end of the last glacial period, some 20,000 years ago. Their skeletons are found generally in the marsh lands of those early days.

Tidal 'as Called "Bore."
A "Bore" is an abrupt tidal wave which breaks in an estuary, the water then rushing up the channel with great force and noise. The most celebrated bores are those in the Ganges, Indus, and Brahmaputra, Amazon, Bay of Fundy, and the Severn. The Amazon bore has been known to reach a height of nearly 16 feet.
